

Structural

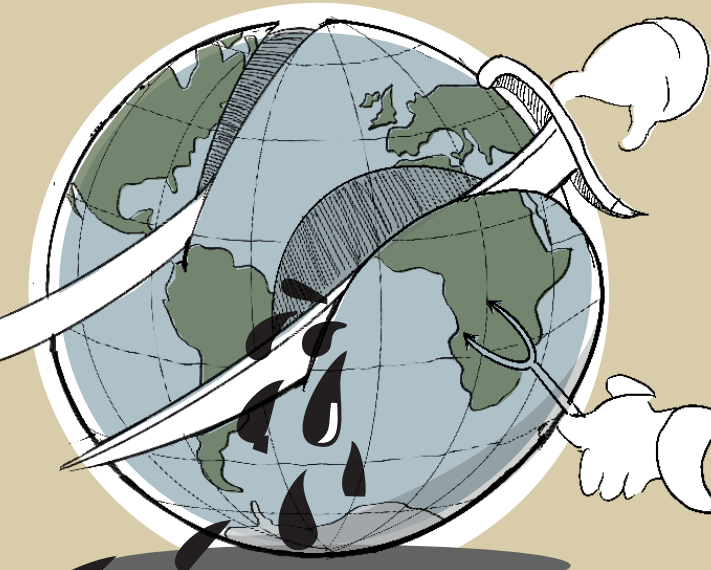

/diː.kəˈləʊ.ni.əl/

Decolonial (adj) Definition: Structural violence as a legacy of colonialism, reinforced by ongoing practices of dispossession, economic exploitation, and epistemic violence.

This approach critiques global institutions (IMF, World Bank) as agents of structural violence.

Violence

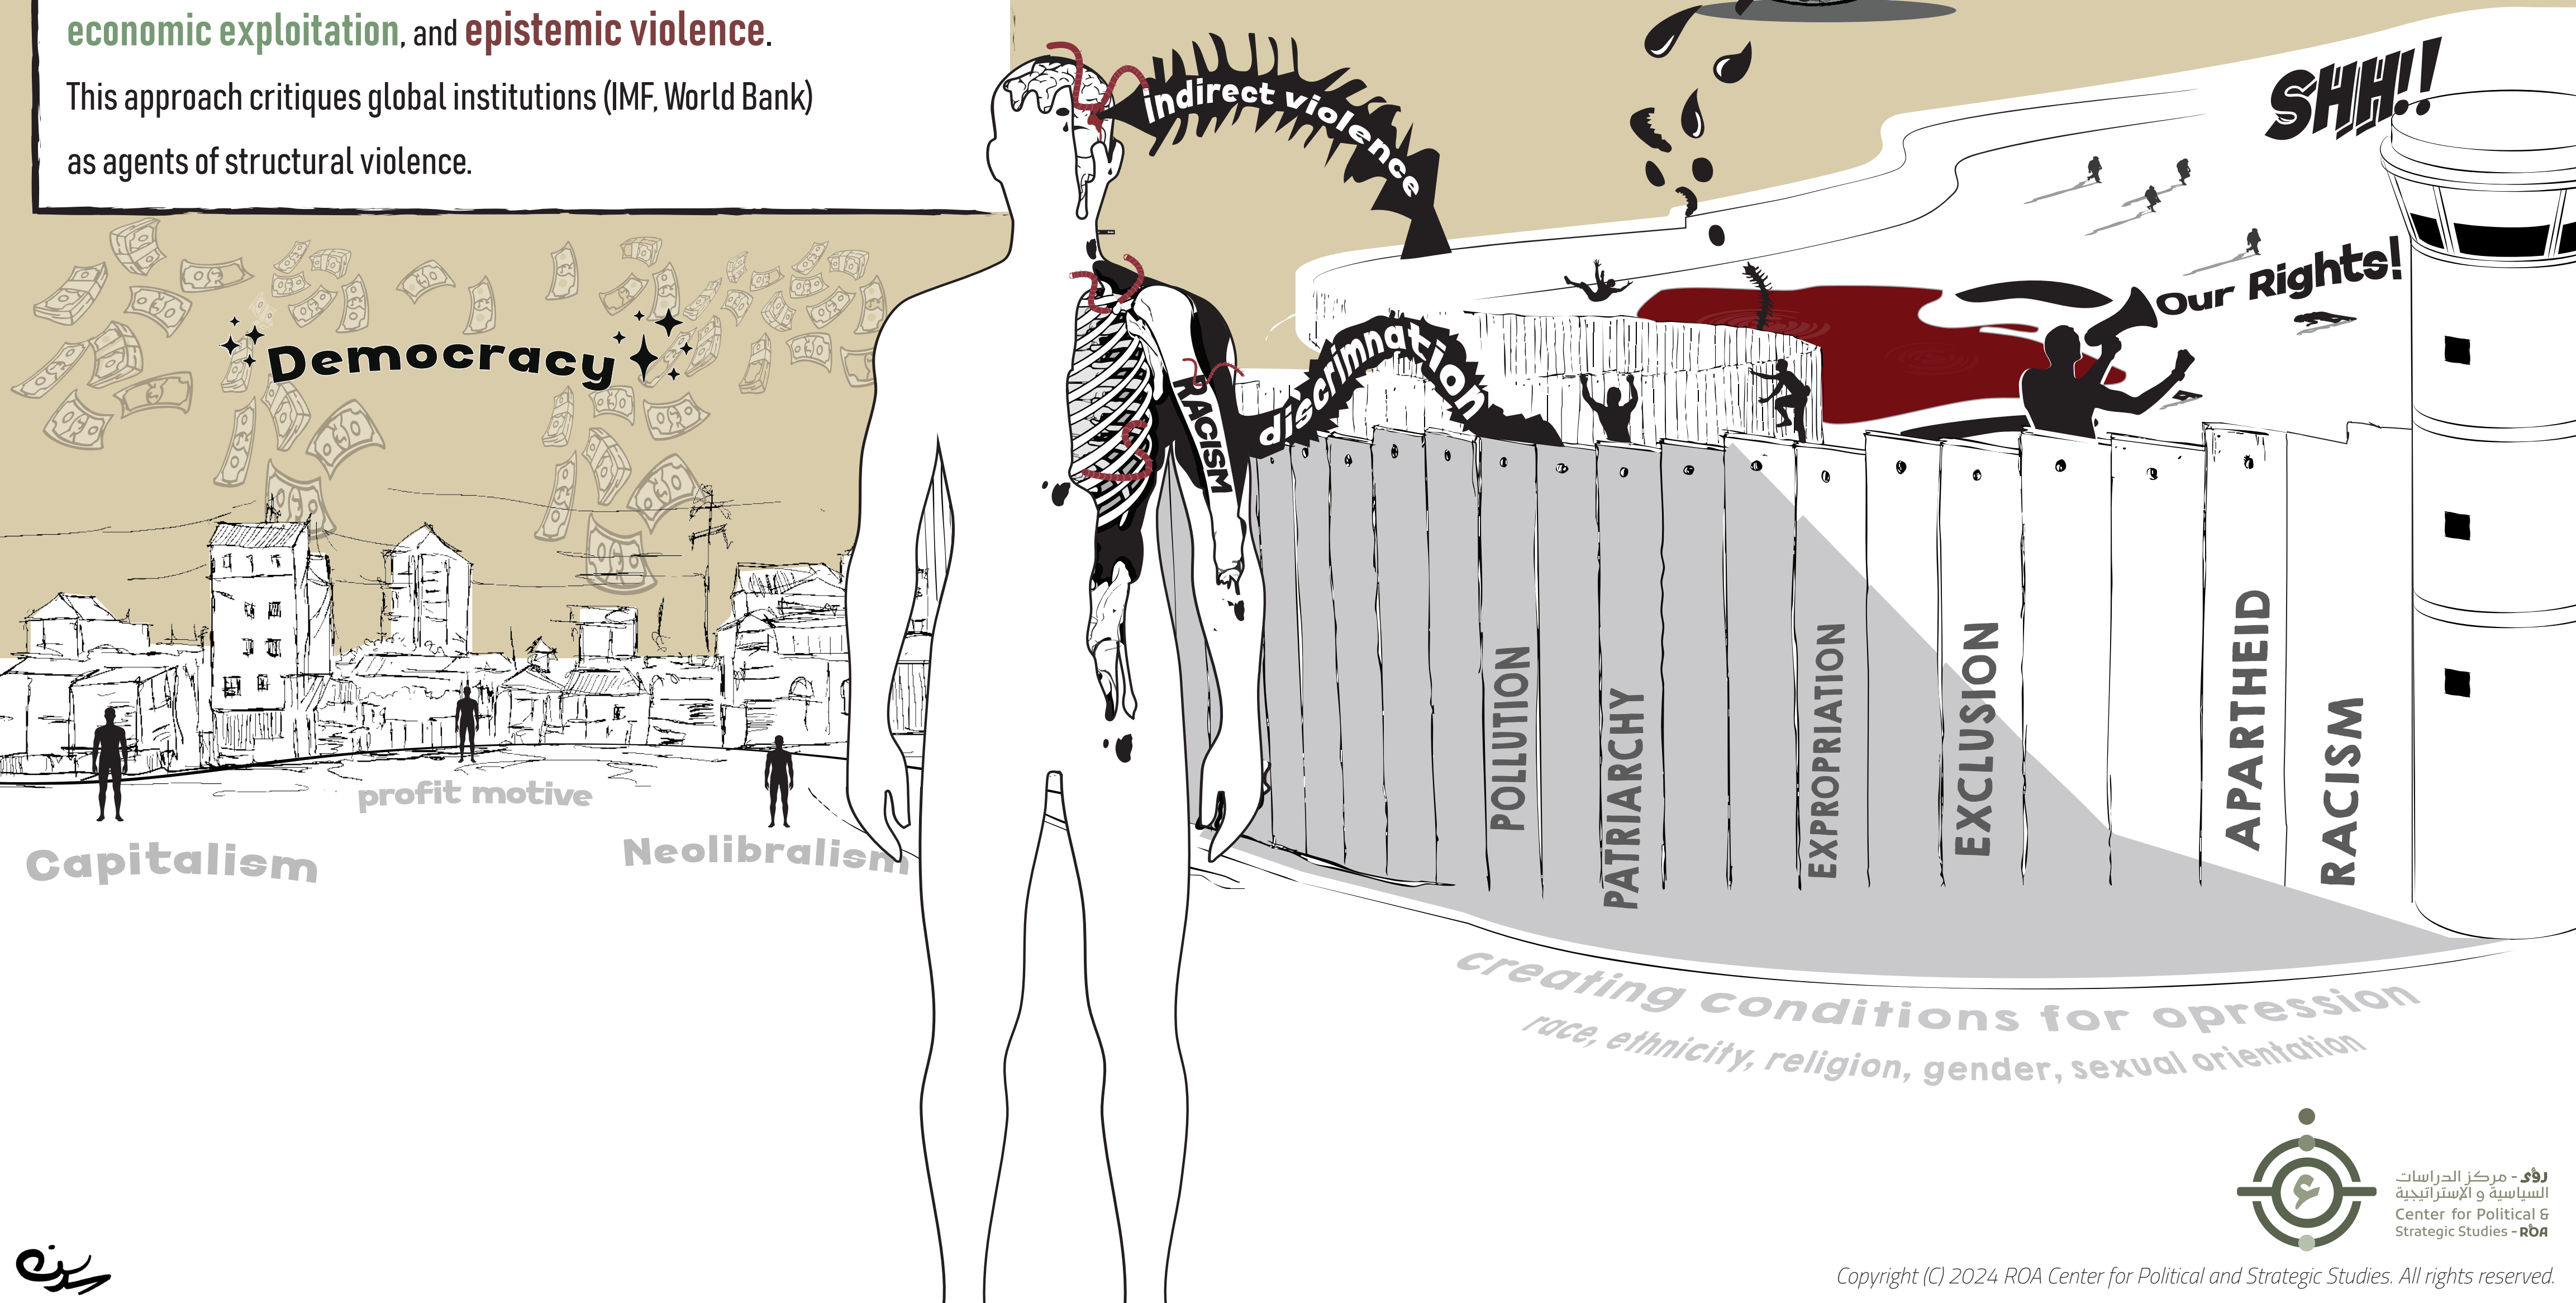

LEGACY OF COLONIALISM

/prɛdʒədɪst/

Prejudiced (adj) Definition:

Violence exerted by social structures or institutions that harm individuals by preventing them from meeting their basic needs.

رؤى - مركز الدراسات
السياسية والإستراتيجية
Center for Political &
Strategic Studies - ROA

Copyright (C) 2024 ROA Center for Political and Strategic Studies. All rights reserved.